Waveland Mayor Mike Smith won't seek re-election

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

Waveland Mayor Mike Smith on Tuesday announced that he would not seek re-election this year.

"I have been blessed to have been a public servant for nearly four decades for the wonderful city of Waveland," Smith said in a statement sent to the Echo. "As most of you know, I have been facing serious health issues since February which requires ongoing treatment and frequent monitoring. Unfortunately, due to this situation and my doctors' recommendation, with a heavy heart, I have decided to not seek re-election."

Last month, Smith announced that he would need another kidney transplant due to the fact that his transplanted kidney is failing.

His first transplant was back in September 2015 with a kidney donated from his sister.

"This decision was not an easy one to make and was based purely on my personal health," Smith said Tuesday. "I truly love this city and all of the residents. It was of great privilege for me to work for you and I want to thank each and every one of you for the kindness and support that you have shown to my family and I. I also

Cotter announces resignation as CEO of HCPHC; LaFontaine named successor

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE

Last week, the Hancock County Board of Supervisors approved the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission's resolution accepting the resignation of CEO/Executive Director Bill Cotter, effective Dec. 31, 2022.

Cotter was named CEO back in March 2021.

He served as interim chief executive officer in August 2020 after the former CEO, Bill Cork, took a position with the Mississippi Development Authority.

"In my 23, coming up on 24 years of service with the Port and Harbor Commission, I've not seen the succession plan," he said at Tuesday's supervisors meeting. "I look to give a six-month notice and I plan to work until the very end. I plan to be involved in the community, well after Dec. 31."

According to a release from HCPHC, during his tenure with Port

Bezou records top 10 finish in Republic of Georgia ultramarathon

John Bezou at the finish line of the Republic of Georgia's ultramarathon in late June.

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

Bay native and ultramarathoner Lt. Col. John Bezou (Ret) recently completed the second leg of the 4Deserts Grand Slam Plus in the Republic of Georgia on June 25. But, it was not without some adversity created by both man and nature.

Bezou and about 35 other competitors suffered an additional 10 kilometers of additional distance on Day 1 of the six-day ultramarathon due to inconspicuous flagging of the course by race personnel, as well as mother nature blanketing the mountain ranges with dense fog and sheep and cattle stomping down race course flags.

Bezou commented, "The first day of the race was a tough one to get over. Myself and a large percentage of competitors logged an additional 10 kilometers of distance before the first checkpoint. It was enough to make me think about pulling out but I was able to gather my thoughts during recovery that evening to resolve myself to what I have signed up to do and that is complete these five races. It ended up motivating me even more and in this race I was able to record a top 10 finish out of almost 50 competitors."

Bezou complimented race personnel for correcting their mistakes from the first day and they made sure to have the courses marked properly through the remainder of the competition.

He also confided that he learned a tremendous amount from the first race to this race.

In the Namibia race in May, Bezou started with a pack that weighed almost 25 pounds which put incredible stress on his body with the heat of the desert and sand terrain.

In Georgia, the heat was not an issue as the race wound through the mountainous terrain of the Southern Caucasus Mountains. Also, the climate was much cooler, especially at night, and there was more water to deal with both in crossings and rain.

Bezou added, "The terrain and climate were vastly different from Namibia in that there were alpine meadows, rocky trails, more water crossings, foggy

Two late Bay Vietnam vets honored

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

Two late Bay St. Louis men were among six Mississippi veterans inducted into the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund's "In Memory" program last month.

The VVMF, which hosted the traveling Vietnam Memorial Wall which visited Bay St. Louis earlier this year, inducted more than 500 Vietnam veterans into the program on June 18, including local veterans Charles Curtis Carver and Charles Xavier Perniciaro.

During the ceremony, each of the 2022 honorees' names were read aloud.

"Since the Vietnam War ended," according to the VVMF, "thousands of Vietnam veterans have suffered due to Agent Orange exposure, PTSD and other illnesses as a result of their service. VVMF believes all those who served in Vietnam should be honored and remembered for their service. The 'In Memory' program enables the families and friends of those who came home and later died the opportunity to have them be forever memorialized."

"For many Vietnam veterans, coming home from Vietnam was just the beginning of a whole new fight ...," Jim Knotts, president and CEO of VVMF said. "As these veterans pass, it is our duty and solemn promise to welcome them home to the place that our nation has set aside to remember our Vietnam veterans."

The ceremony "was amazing," Christie Blackwell, Carver's daughter, said. She, her mother and several other family members traveled to the induction.

"The Vietnam Vet Memorial Fund really did a great job," Blackwell said.

The VVMF also sponsored a Father's Day ceremony the next day, she said.

Family members were allowed to place roses at a memorial site for the ceremony.

"There was one kind of rose for people who died in Vietnam," Blackwell said, "one kind for those who went Missing In Action, and one kind for people who came back from Vietnam and later died."

Carver, who served in the U.S. Marine Corps, died June 12, 1988, at the age of 41. Perniciaro, who served in the U.S. Army, died March 26, 2021, at the age of 70.

Although Carver died very young, "My dad was a big part of the community," Blackwell said. "He did a lot for the VFW in Bay Saint Louis and was the past commander. ... He was very active in community events."

Perniciaro returned to Bay St. Louis after being honorably discharged, and operated a successful auto mechanic and wrecker business for nearly 50 years.

New dock, rail construction continues at Port Bienville

SEA COAST ECHO

Hancock County Port & Harbor Commission (HCPHC) continues construction of a new maritime dock and railroad facility at Port Bienville Industrial Park.

The $8.8 million project includes a 600-foot bulkhead with a 40-foot apron which can accommodate three barges for loading and unloading. A 250-foot crushed stone laydown yard will extend from the apron for operations and storage.

The project also includes two Port Bienville Shortline Railroad track extensions to serve the dock with rail-to-barge intermodal operations. Access roads will also be improved for truck and other vehicle traffic.

Known as the RESTORE Dock, the project was funded by a $7.4 million RESTORE Act grant in 2017. An additional $510,000 in funding came from the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality's GOMESA program. HCPHC contributed the remaining $870,000.

"Port and Harbor Commission is committed to growing economic opportunities," CEO Bill Cotter. "Thanks to the support of federal, state and local partners, this infrastructure investment will support business operations and continued growth of our maritime business."

The construction project was awarded to Gill's Crane and Dozer Service, Inc., of Slidell, for $7.4 million. Notice to proceed work was issued in May 2021, and the project is expected to be completed this fall.

Scouts BSA Troop Hikes in the Redwoods

Scouts from Troop 321 hail from Diamondhead, Poplarville, Gulfport, Biloxi, Ocean Springs, and Long Beach.

SEA COAST ECHO

Boy Scouts of America High Adventure Troop 321 from Long Beach, Mississippi traveled to California and hiked in the tallest living creatures on Earth.

Troop 321 scouts met at First United Methodist Church at 4:30 AM on a Saturday morning to embark on a journey that would lead to visiting some of the Earth's most extremes on June 11th. The troop started their journey on their own school bus converted to scout bus, Scoutship Integrity, and traveled to New Orleans where they caught the train at Union Station. They traveled for two days on Amtrak's Sunset Limited line to Union Station in Los Angeles, California. While on board the train, they had multiple mini-adventures, such as the AC system in their car going out resulting in them spending much of their time in the lounge car, the café car ran out of food so they ordered pizza and had it delivered to the station ahead at El Paso, Texas. They also worked on merit badges on the train and were able to complete requirements toward their Railroad and Exploration merit badges.

Upon reaching the end of the train ride they boarded a couple 15-passenger vans and began their journey north. Their first destination was the Father Crowley overlook in Death Valley National Forest. The overlook is perched atop a site nicknamed Star Wars Canyon because military jets often do maneuvers below. Although Death Valley itself contains the lowest point in North America and is the hottest location in North America, as well, the scouts only experienced a mild 96-degree day while they were there. En route, the scouts checked out the Airplane Graveyard at Mohave, stopped for lunch at Red Rock Canyon State Recreation Area where they competed at wheelbarrow-races, stopped for a photo op looking up at Mount Whitney, the highest mountain in the contiguous United States, and generally enjoyed driving through the Sierra Nevada Mountain Range. At the end of the day, the troop arrived at the Ancient Bristlecone Pine Forest Visitor Center, where they explored and gathered data for merit badges among the oldest living creatures on Earth. The trees that the scouts were exploring aged to over 5,000 years!

The following day, the troop traveled to Lake Tahoe, the largest alpine lake in the world. While there, the scouts swam while the leaders took over KP duties and prepared burgers and hot dogs for a picnic for them. The scouts said that the water temperatures lived up to (or down to!) their expectations for being cold. The lake is surrounded by snow-covered mountains even in June that feed the waters keeping them chilly! The scouts still had a blast swimming at Sand Harbor beach on the lake. After departing, the troop traveled up the Volcanic Legacy Scenic Byway to the lowlands below Mt. Shasta.

As the troop traveled the north, they enjoyed experiencing the extreme environmental shift, from the arid heat of Death Valley to the cool-dry of the sierras to the cold damp of the Pacific Northwest. Traveling north, the troop saw the height of the trees increase along with the weather change. Upon arriving to Redwood State Park, home of the Coastal Redwoods, the size of the trees was just difficult to comprehend. The troop set up camp at Elk Prairie Campground, next to the Prairie Creek Visitor Center. In the center of the home of the world's tallest trees, a small prairie, consisting of a few dozen acres, provides a home for a few herd of California elk. The troop set up an operational base there to perform hikes and work on their data-gathering required for their expedition called for in the Exploration Merit Badge. While there, scouts performed hikes in smaller groups of twos and threes just for personal exploring, then performed a couple hikes with the whole troop where they performed the data-gathering for merit badge requirements. The trails that the scouts hiked on, The Cathedral Trail, the Foothills Trail, the Rotary Memorial Trail, and Big Tree Loop, all provided views that created awe for each of the hikers. To better grasp the size of the trees, the troop encircled a few different trees with everyone on the hike just to see if they could ... and just barely did!

After camping for two days on the Elk Prairie, the scouts packed up camp, loaded their gear into vans, then conducted their last hike through the redwoods as they hiked out to the beach on the Pacific Ocean. The hike on the James Irvine Trail traversed valleys and cliffs and delighted with parts of the trail cut through massive-felled redwoods that had fallen sometimes centuries ago. The last mile of the 8-mile trek included a trek down a creek canyon with 50-foot high walls covered in thick ferns, named, aptly, Fern Canyon. The creek trek itself is an obstacle course where redwoods have fallen and create massive mountains for hikers to traverse, finally ending at the mouth of the canyon where it opens to a beach glade.

Scouts discovered a not-so-golden feature of Golds Bluff Beach known as goat heads, similar to our Rock-achaws here in south Mississippi. Unfortunately, these stickers poked through the bottom of their tents and were plentiful. With the incredible sunset and temperatures in the 40's, scouts still very much enjoyed camping at this campground known for its remoteness on the beach of the Pacific Ocean.

The following day, the scouts packed up and headed to Camp Tamarancho, a Scout Camp with over 400 acres of redwood canyons and scenic knolls. Another incredible feature of this scout camp is the fact that it overlooks the San Francisco Bay. After a chapel service at the camp, the scouts climbed one of the hills in camp where they posed for pictures at a scenic spot overlooking the bay and the city that shares its name. From there the scouts travelled to the base of the Golden Gate Bridge and hiked across into San Francisco.

Later that day, the scouts traveled to Big Sur National Forest and set up camp at Hearst San-Simeon State Park. There they did a morning beach hike down to the local tourist village of Cambria where they saw giant fronds of sea kelp and seals basking on the rocks, rode back to camp, then spent the afternoon doing local exploring around camp.

After roughing it, leaders, and scouts alike, looked forward to arriving at and staying at the Knott's Berry Farm Resort Hotel. There they enjoyed an incredible dinner and breakfast at the hotel restaurant, then spent the following day enjoying the rides and Old-West-themed exhibits at the Knott's Berry Farm Amusement Park. That evening, the scouts took a chartered bus ride back to the train station, where they boarded the train to return to Mississippi.

BHS Senior earns scholarship from local attorney Brehm Bell

SEA COAST ECHO

Bay High graduate Emma MacFarlane was recently awarded the Brehm Bell Scholarship, given annually to a promising local student. The scholarship, open to both public and private high school seniors in Hancock County, was created to encourage those who are planning to pursue studies in the field of law or similar majors. An outside committee selected MacFarlane from a field of applicants based on her academics, character, and written essay. The scholarship provides $1000 in funds to help her as she begins to pursue her degree.

In her submitted essay, MacFarlane wrote that some of the most significant lessons she learned from her four years of high school is to "hold myself to high standards, be independent from my family, and manage my time wisely." She will continue her studies at Louisiana State University in the fall.

This is the 7th year Brehm Bell has awarded this scholarship to a deserving graduate. A practicing attorney in downtown Bay St Louis since 1995, Bell focuses his practice on personal injury cases and helping people who are overwhelmed or frustrated with the legal process.

Plant volunteers spring up as garden surprises

One of my most enjoyable garden experiences involves plants that just randomly pop up in various places in my home garden and landscape.

Some gardeners call these weeds, but many others call them volunteers. I love my plant volunteers, and I let them grow in some unexpected places around my landscape.

I’ve written about these plant volunteers in the past. Earlier this summer, I wrote about the native white spider lily, Hymenocallis occidentalis, that popped up one day after about 10 years in my home garden. Since then, I’ve been propagating this plant and placing it in different areas of my backyard.

Other flowering plants finding new spots to randomly grow are the various milkweeds (Asclepias species) that I’m planting as forage for Monarch butterfly caterpillars. The seed pods of milkweeds open, and each seed is attached to a feathery, parachute-like structure that allows the wind to carry it off someplace new.

This summer, I’ve had what I call a grand surprise. Last summer about this time, I wrote about a favorite flowering vinca, Cora Cascade, that I like to plant in my citrus containers as a colorful ground cover. This spring, I was stunned to see how many little volunteer seedlings had popped up from last year’s Cora Cascade plants. These little surprises have made quite an impression with their growth and flowering.

One thing I find fascinating about these flowering volunteers is that, most of the time, they are not the same as their parent plants.

This makes sense because most flowering annuals we buy at garden centers are hybrids that have been bred to display specific colors, growth habit, etc. When these hybrids are pollinated, it’s the same as rolling the genetic dice. I like this analogy since I live on the Gulf Coast with all of the gaming casinos.

The new seedlings very often are quite different from each other and express the genetic traits of plants used earlier in the breeding process.

My 2021 Cora Cascade exhibited a consistent lilac color with a darker center eye, while the 2022 seedlings have colors ranging from lilac to shell pink and almost white. You would think that I had planted mixed colors, but this was all Mother Nature’s handiwork. Love her!

One thing you need to know about plant volunteers is that the vast majority move around the garden via seeds.

I always allow a portion of the flowering plants in my home garden and landscape to go to seed. Then my wife or I can collect the seeds and sprinkle them around or just let nature and the wind take over to spread them for us.

Hancock History: Horatio Weston (1863-1931)

The 20th Century witnessed much change in Hancock County. The county benefited from capable leadership during the Roaring Twenties from two principal community boosters, Horatio Stephen Weston (1863-1931) and Leo W. Seal Sr. (1888-1963). Weston and Seal made a real “dream team” modernizing Hancock County during the 1920s and bringing some of the necessary infrastructure that would be required to achieve prosperity in the area.

Horatio was born in Logtown, Mississippi on August 26, 1863. He was the son of Henry Weston (1823-1912) and Lois A. Mead (1839-1877). Henry was the lumber baron who built the Weston Lumber Company, incorporated in 1888. Horatio took over the company after his father died in 1912. In 1889 Horatio married Elizabeth Wall of New Orleans. They reared four children.

At the beginning of the 20th Century, Hancock County and the rest of the Gulf Coast was, at least from a business point of view, almost completely isolated from the rest of the world. There was no bridge across the Bay of St. Louis, or the Pearl River, for wagons and carriages.... not even a ferry! All passenger travel or transport of freight was by rail or boat or, less often, over the frequently impassable county road that wound from the Kiln around the Bay to connect with the Old Pass Road. The county desperately needed infrastructure such as roads and bridges to foster commerce.

Horatio was a member of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors for thirty years, most of that time as President. Horatio was an advocate of good roads and adequate bridges. In the 1920s the Hancock Bank under the direction of Weston and Seal bought the entire $400,000 issue of Hancock County Bonds to expedite and guarantee the construction of the Old Spanish Trail. Although it would originally be a gravel road, it was the precursor of our most vital artery, US Highway 90.

Likewise, Seal and Weston financed the old steam ferry that operated on the Bay between Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian. Horatio thought the ferry was slow, inadequate to handle the ever-increasing traffic as well as being dangerous. Consequently, the county was persuaded by these forward-thinking bankers to build a bridge across the Bay. The wooden bridge was built

Sport Fish Restoration Act

Since 1950, anglers and hunters have been paying for fish and wildlife management in Mississippi, and throughout the nation, through license fees and a federal tax diversion program on hunting and fishing gear sales.

Spend $4 for fish and wildlife management projects and get $3 of it back from the federal government (courtesy of you and me, of course!). Sounds like a great investment and the kind of program we would all like to be a part of, doesn’t it? In fact, we are. The Federal Aid in Sport Fish Restoration Program and the Federal Aid in Wildlife Restoration Program pay the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries, and Parks (MDWFP) and the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources (MDMR) $3 for every $4 spent on federally approved fish and wildlife-management projects in the state.

This program is a “user-pay-user benefit” operation. First created in 1950, when the Federal Aid in Sport Fish Restoration Act was passed, the program diverts the federal excise taxes on fishing tackle, motorboat fuel taxes, and import duties on tackle and boats to the states for sport fisheries and development projects. These revenues are collected by the sport fishing industry, deposited in the Department of Treasury, and allocated the year following collection to state agencies for wildlife and fisheries projects as well as access projects such as boat ramps and fishing piers.

Guest Column
By James Cummins

In 1984, as a result of the Wallop-Breaux Amendment to the Federal Aid in Sport Restoration Act (part of the deficit reduction act in 1984), the program was amended and expanded to include a revenue of types of projects eligible for funding. Sponsored by Senator Malcolm Wallop of Wyoming and Representative John Breaux of Louisiana, the expanded sources of revenue identified in the act resulted in a 10% excise tax on additional items of fishing tackle and equipment; a 3% excise tax on electric trolling motors and sonar fish finders; a federal excise tax paid on motor fuels used for recreational boating; and import dues on fishing tackle, yachts, and pleasure crafts. This expansion also added new factors which influenced the states’ projects including program funding levels, boating access, aquatic resources education, and equitable expenditure between freshwater and saltwater projects.

The MDWFP and the MDMR have accomplished much through the application of Sport Fish Restoration Program funds.

Looking back, the initial MDWFP Dingell-Johnson Project in 1951, addressed a gamefish survey of the impounded public fishing waters of Mississippi. Since then, federal assistance projects have been conducted on such projects as age and growth of fish, habitat restoration, lake fertilization, and large bass minimum length limits.

As you can see, the Federal Aid in Sport Fish Restoration Program is a vital part of our fish management program in Mississippi. For over 70 years this program has been instrumental in the MDWFP and the MDMR efforts to advance the conservation, management, restoration, and enhancement of Mississippi’s fisheries resources.

Bay man jailed on burglary charges

ECHO STAFF

Police officers on Saturday arrested a Bay St. Louis man for allegedly burglarizing a home on July 7.
“On July 9, the Bay St. Louis Police Department arrested Cash Socia, a 27-year-old male of Bay St. Louis, and charged him with one count of Burglary of a Residence, according to a Bay P.D. press release.

“A warrant was issued for Socia in connection with the burglary of a residence, located in the 800 block of Highway 90, on July 7. Socia is being held at the Hancock County Jail on a $50,000 bond.”
Jail records show Socia was still being held in lieu of bond as of press time on Tuesday.

35-acre parcel on the industrial canal at Port Bienville. With maritime, rail and road access, the intermodal facility could support transload operations, bulk material handling, liquid transfer and warehousing for import/export businesses.
Each year, about 480,000 tons of material move across Port Bienville’s public and private docks. When it is completed, RESTORE Dock will be the fifth public dock in HCPHC’s portfolio. Two additional docks are owned by industrial tenants at the port.

“The Port and Harbor Commission continues to invest for the future of Hancock County,” said CEO Bill Cotter. “Our industrial assets provide the logistical solutions that allow existing tenants to expand and attract new businesses to the area.”

With its 12-foot-deep industrial canal, Port Bienville provides access to the Intracoastal Waterway via the Pearl River. Connecting Port Bienville to CSX, Port Bienville Railroad boasts 17 miles of track and processes over 8,000 loaded railcars a year. The industrial park is home to 16 companies employing nearly 700 people.

in 1928 for $750,610.65. The County Board of Supervisors issued bonds in that time frame for construction of strategic county roads, the beachfront seawall, and public schools. The County Board also loaned money to build many of the churches in the area.
Horatio owned the hotel in Bay St. Louis, called over different successive owners, the Crescent Hotel, the Pickwick Hotel, and finally the Weston Hotel. Fire destroyed this hotel in 1923 and Weston promptly built a grand hotel at the corner of Ulman Avenue and Beach Boulevard, which he called the Weston Hotel. The location was strategic because the bridge built over the Bay in 1928 would make Ulman Avenue part of Highway

90. The hotel was later renamed the Hotel Reed by Robert Reed, the next owner of the property.
In conclusion, Horatio Weston was the most important leader of the County Board of Supervisors and the banking/insurance sector of Hancock County during the 1920s. His resume includes membership on many boards of governors and philanthropic organizations. His decision to bring Leo Seal Sr.

in 1918 to the Hancock Bank was his most valuable achievement for the economy and future well-being of Hancock County. The advent of the automobile demanded improvement of roads and bridges; and the “dream team” of Weston and Seal transformed the basic infrastructure of our county to benefit this modern form of transportation. Horatio Weston died from a massive stroke 1931.

SBA Deadline Approaching for Working Capital Loans in Mississippi for Strong Winds, Heavy Rain and Hurricane/Tropical Storm Ida

SEA COAST ECHO

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) is reminding small businesses, small agricultural cooperatives, small businesses engaged in aquaculture, and most private non-profit organizations that Aug. 8 is the filing deadline for federal economic injury disaster loans in Mississippi due to strong winds, heavy rain and Hurricane/Tropical Storm Ida that occurred Aug. 29-30, 2021.

The declaration covers the counties of Adams, Amite, Copiah, Franklin, George, Greene, Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Jefferson, Jefferson Davis, Kemper, Lamar, Lauderdale, Lawrence, Lincoln, Marion, Neshoba, Newton, Noxubee, Pearl River, Perry, Pike, Stone, Walthall, Wilkinson and Winston in Mississippi; Mobile and Sumter in Alabama; and the parishes of Orleans, Saint Bernard, Saint Tammany, Tangipahoa and Washington in Louisiana.

Under this declaration, the SBA's Economic Injury Disaster Loan program is available to eligible farm-related and nonfarm-related entities that suffered financial losses as a direct result of this disaster. Apart from aquaculture enterprises, SBA cannot provide disaster loans to agricultural producers, farmers, and ranchers.

The loan amount can be up to $2 million with interest rates of 2.855 percent for small businesses and 2 percent for private nonprofit organizations, with terms up to 30 years. The SBA determines eligibility based on the size of the applicant, type of activity and its financial resources. Loan amounts and terms are set by the SBA and are based on each applicant's financial condition. These working capital loans may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable, and other bills that could have been paid had the disaster not occurred. The loans are not intended to replace lost sales or profits. Applicants may apply online using the Electronic Loan Application (ELA) via the SBA's secure website at DisasterLoanAssistance.sba.gov/ela/s/ and should apply under SBA declaration # 17282.

Disaster loan information and application forms may also be obtained by calling the SBA's Customer Service Center at 800-659-2955 (for people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or have a speech disability, please dial 7-1-1 to access telecommunications relay services), or by sending an email to DisasterCustomerService@sba.gov. Loan applications can be downloaded from the SBA's website at sba.gov/disaster. Completed applications should be mailed to: U.S. Small Business Administration, Processing and Disbursement Center, 14925 Kingsport Road, Fort Worth, TX 76155.

Submit completed loan applications to SBA no later than Aug. 8, 2022.

I've decided it's time to take a break and refocus my energy," Cotter said in the release. "My wife and I plan to enjoy retirement and spend more time with our children and grandchildren."

As airport director, "Cotter helped guide Stennis Airport's recovery from Hurricane Katrina and coordinated the airfield activities during the BP Deepwater Horizon response. Since 2005, he has overseen nearly $40 million in capital improvements at the airport including the construction of the air traffic control tower, aircraft hangars and the terminal building. As COO, Port Bienville Industrial Park's existing docks were refurbished and improved, and construction began on a new 600-foot dock, which is expected to be completed later this year," the release states.

According to the release, Cotter was also "instrumental in attracting a line of companies that resulted in Tyonek Service Group's operation to Hancock County" and "credited with bringing the U.S. military operations support to Hancock County."

"Economic development is really about creating opportunities for our neighbors to grow," Cotter said in the release. "When I look at the hangars and buildings, I'm impressed by the work we've done at Port and Harbor. But when I think about the hundreds of employees and the families they support, when I see them around town at shops and restaurants, I'm proud of the impact we have had to make Hancock County one of the best places to live. I thank the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission and County Board of Supervisors, past and present, for the support over the years. It has allowed us to grow the airport and port into the economic engines they are today."

Cotter said last week that after reviewing its options for about a month, the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission appointed Blaine LaFontaine as CEO/Executive Director, effective Jan. 1, 2023.

LaFontaine previously served as a councilman for the city of Diamondhead, a Hancock County supervisor and Pearl River County's economic development director.

He has also served on the Hancock County Utility Authority, the Hancock County Regional Solid Waste Authority, the South Mississippi Twin Districts Workforce Area, and the Mississippi Sound Coalition.

He has a Masters of Science in economic development and a Bachelor of Science in industrial engineering technology, both from the University of Southern Mississippi.

LaFontaine currently serves as Chief Operations and Port Director at the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission.

thank the Board of Aldermen that worked closely with me for the past two terms in office, as well as the dedicated employees. In closing, I wish the great people of Waveland nothing but the best in the future."

Smith was first elected mayor in 2014 and is currently serving his second term.

Qualifying is now under way for Waveland's election and the deadline for all candidates is 5 p.m. on Aug. 5. The first primary election is scheduled for Oct. 4 and, if necessary, a runoff is scheduled for Oct. 25. The general election will be held on Dec. 6. The polling place for all elected positions and wards is the Waveland Fire Department, located at 307 Coleman Ave.

Protect pets from warm weather risks

MS. SUSAN M. COLLINS-SMITH
MSU EXTENSION SERVICE

When temperatures rise, it’s not just humans who need to take precautions. Heat stress is just as serious and life threatening for pets as it is for humans. While both dogs and cats can get too hot, dogs are more susceptible to overheating, heat exhaustion and heat stroke. “Humans sweat to cool off, but dogs don’t,” said Carla Huston, Mississippi State University Extension veterinarian and professor with the MSU College of Veterinary Medicine. “Dogs cool themselves by panting and drinking water. They have a very limited ability to sweat through their noses and foot pads. When the outside temperatures are too warm and they don’t have access to adequate shelter and clean water, they can overheat easily.” Warm weather can be too much for dogs even when it does not seem that hot to humans. Use caution with dogs and limit their outdoor time if they do not have appropriate shade and cool, clean water when the heat index is 80 degrees and above, Huston said. The following protocols can help keep pets cool when temperatures rise: Provide unlimited access to fresh water and shade. Exercise dogs in the cooler parts of the day. Stay off hot surfaces, such as asphalt, when exercising dogs. Hot surfaces can cause serious burns to their paws. Never leave a pet in a vehicle, even for a short time. Temperatures in vehicles can rise to dangerous levels within minutes. Talk to the pet’s veterinarian about whether to trim or clip a dog’s coat and whether to use sunscreen on the pet. If sunscreen is used, be sure to use products specially formulated for pets. Keep them free of parasites, including fleas, ticks and heartworms. Discuss the appropriate products and dosages with the pet’s veterinarian. Heat injuries in pets can range in severity from heat stress, which is the least severe, to heat stroke, which can be very severe and lead to death. Early signs of heat stress in dogs include excessive panting, excessive drooling, anxiousness, restlessness, bright-red gums and unsteadiness. Animals showing signs of heat stress should be kept rested, taken inside or cooled off, and given plenty of water. The more serious signs of heat stroke can include pale gums, unsteadiness, tacky or dry snout and mouth, vomiting and diarrhea, non-response to the owner or commands, and collapse. If dogs experience any of these symptoms, get emergency veterinary care immediately. In cats, heat stress can cause restless behavior, panting, drooling, moist or sweaty paw pads, and excessive grooming as they try to cool off. Collapse, seizures and death can occur if the cat cannot cool down. Another summertime danger for dogs is blue-green algae. “Pets should not be allowed to drink from or swim in lakes or ponds that may be contaminated by blue-green algae blooms, which are bacteria called cyanobacteria,” Huston said. “These algae can be toxic and result in fatal poisoning.” Contaminated water usually has a foul odor, may appear green with a bluish tint and could be covered with thick, slimy algae, she said. For more information about blue-green algae, other places it can grow, and what to do if a pet is exposed, visit the Pet Poison Helpline website at <https://bit.ly/3AiE5N8> and the VCA Animal Hospitals website at <https://bit.ly/3OSgebv>. Treating pets for external parasites will help keep their skin and haircoats healthy and maintain their ability to protect against temperature extremes and other potential injuries. Medications for fleas, ticks and heartworms are just the first step in protecting pets from parasites. Depending on where a family lives, it may also be necessary to treat the yard and other areas that pets frequent to successfully control fleas, ticks and mosquitoes. “Not allowing pets inside the house is the surest way to avoid having fleas inside the house, but not all pet owners favor this method,” said Blake Layton, Extension entomologist. “Whether or not pets are allowed inside, the first step in flea control is to treat pets with an effective and appropriate on-pet treatment. “Good, on-pet flea preventive, combined with frequent cleaning of pet bedding areas, can keep fleas from becoming established in the house or yard,” he said.

The Bay St. Louis Fire Department on Monday rescued a man trapped in his vehicle after a two-vehicle crash on Hwy. 90. “Officers of the Bay St. Louis Police Department responded to the Hwy. 90 for a two-vehicle collision, in which a commercial truck struck a sedan attempting to cross the highway,” Capt. of Operations Rachel Jewell said in a press release. Eastbound traffic of Hwy. 90 was diverted in order for Bay St. Louis firemen to extricate the driver of the sedan. The driver of the sedan and two juvenile passengers were transported to area hospitals with apparent minor injuries.“ The accident occurred from the access road in front of Notre Dame De La Mer apartments. “They need to do something about his road,” a Notre Dame resident at the scene said. “I’ve seen a lot of accidents here, none as bad as this one, but a lot.” The names of those involved in the accident have not yet been released to the public.

HEALTH OFFICIALS: DON’T DELAY BACK TO SCHOOL IMMUNIZATIONS

Mississippi Parents Now Able to Print Completed Immunization Records at Home

SEA COAST ECHO

While it seems that the school year just ended, the Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH) reminds parents not to wait until the last minute for back-to-school immunizations. Mississippi state law requires children to be immunized against childhood diseases to enter public or private school, Head Start or daycare.

More than 99 percent of all students entering kindergarten in Mississippi are up to date on their immunizations, protecting them – and others who cannot be vaccinated – against potentially deadly diseases.

“There are many options for where to get your vaccinations now, including private medical providers, retail pharmacies and county health departments,” said MSDH State Epidemiologist Dr. Paul Byers. “Regardless of where you have your child vaccinated, it’s incredibly important to make sure they are up to date on their immunizations. It is the best protection for your child and those around them.”

There are required vaccinations for first-time school entry in Mississippi as well as a requirement for 7th grade entry. Parents must provide the school with a Certificate of Immunization Compliance (Form 121) prior to school entry.

Form 121 can be obtained from your child’s immunization provider, but the MSDH now offers a convenient way for parents to check their child’s immunizations record online and print out the required Form 121 or download the document to send to the school.

MyIR Mobile is an online portal that gives users access to their official state immunization records based. MyIR Mobile allows users to not only see their own immunization records, but to also add family members to their profiles to see if their child is up-to-date or needs their next vaccination. If none are needed, a certified Form 121 can be downloaded or printed.

MyIR Mobile requires identity verification through a phone number or email address to keep records safe and secure. Only immunization records of Mississippi residents are accessible through this program. MyIR Mobile is available at www.MyIRMobile.com.

Ivy is a super sweet and affectionate, 4 month old, Calico kitty. She loves to play with other kittens, and likes adult cats, too. She is litter box trained, and utilizes a scratching post. Ivy is available as an inside only kitten, as she has never been outside, and isn't able to protect herself. Come see this adorable baby at the Hancock County Animal Shelter. Please call 228 466 4516 to make sure she is still available.

Who doesn’t like chunky chocolate?! That is exactly where your mind will go when you first meet Scarlett. Reminiscent of a Chunky candy bar, she sits low to the ground and has a stocky build. She’s a bit skittish in the shelter environment, but she is sweet and gentle, and will likely melt right into your heart. Scarlett appears to be young, (approximately 18 months old), and is basically untrained, which will allow you to mold her into the dog of your dreams. Positive, consistent training and gentle affection will go a long way in building Scarlett’s confidence and in helping her to blossom from timid shelter pup to loving companion. She would be a wonderful BFF for a single person, couple or family with older children. (Smaller, rambunctious children may overwhelm Scarlett at this time.) This sweet girl loves the company of other friendly dogs. Come fulfill your craving for a deliciously divine canine during our visiting hours, Mon, Wed-Fri 10am-3:30pm (Tues 1pm-3:30pm). Or, please call our front desk at 228-466-4516 to schedule an appointment. Please bring your dog(s) and children along for the meet-n-greet to ensure compatibility.

Coastal Sights Exhibit to Adorn Art Gallery

SEA COAST ECHO

Coastal Sights come alive through the work of award-winning Hancock County-area watercolor artist Herb Willey.

Herb has recently been working on a technique that allows Watercolor art to be framed without matting and glass. Many of the new pieces in this show have been framed in this manner and will be publicly displayed here for the first time.

Herb is presently concentrating on the changes that have occurred with human attitude toward nature with the proliferation of cellphones and digital cameras. Look for his narrative interpretations in some of these pieces like “What Shrimp boat”.

The show opened last month and will be available through August 1 at the Moss Point Fine Art Gallery in the Pascagoula River Audubon Center located in Moss point at 5107 Arthur St.

Shore Thing: Good Time Johnny

Shore Thing Fishing Report

By Cpt. Sonny Schindler

Even though Johnny Sykes has been fishing with Shore Thing Charters for many years, I almost never take him. He is 99% of the time wearing out the fish with Capt Matt Tusa. Recently Matt was working a multi day/night trip out at the Cat Island house, and Johnny was looking to fish. I jumped at the chance to take him for 2 days. Not because he is a good fisherman, but because he is such a fun guy.

Matt told me, “they only want reds, so just work the ponds and shore lines all day”. I was happy to oblige. Johnny and his crews were very good casters, so that helped. They understood how to work points, drains, and how to look for bait. It was just up to me to find some fish.

Day 1 was slow, but we found a few reds and flounders throughout the trip. Day 2 was much better. We found a few packs of redfish pinned against some shorelines covered in shells. Once we found em, Johnny and his crew made quick work of the reds. Johnny even broke out his ultra-light tackle to savor the fight.

Throughout our two days, one thing never changed, Johnny’s attitude. He was just as excited in rough water as he was in calm water. If the fishing was slow or if we were on an every cast bite, he was still telling one of hilarious stories. He’s truly one of the happiest people I’ve ever had on the boat. I can see why Capt Matt doesn’t let him stray too far. A guy like this on this on the boat makes a bad day good, and a good day great. Everyone needs a guy like that on every fishing trip. Everyone needs a Good Time Johnny.

Coast Guard reaches major milestone by containing and removing 1 million gallons of oil from Mississippi Canyon Block 20 site

SEA COAST ECHO

The U.S. Coast Guard and partner agencies have successfully contained and collected over one million gallons of oil discharged from subsurface oil wells connected to a toppled oil platform in Mississippi Canyon Block 20 (MC-20), located 11 miles south of the Louisiana shoreline. As of July 12, 2022, 1,016,929 gallons of oil have been collected from the MC-20 site.

The platform collapsed in 2004 due to Hurricane Ivan, and oil continues to leak from the damaged wells. Since April 2019, oil has been captured, contained, and removed from the site while a permanent plan to effectively and safely decommission the oil wells at the MC-20 site is being developed. A subsea containment system designed, fabricated, installed, and operated by Couvillion Group, LLC, specifically in response to this incident, continues to collect an average of 900 gallons of oil per day with the Coast Guard overseeing continuous oil collection and necessary system maintenance.

“The near elimination of the surface sheen and collection and removal of more than one million gallons of oil from the site over the previous three years is a major milestone in the Coast Guard’s efforts to contain the MC-20 oil spill that has affected the waters off the Gulf Coast for years,” said Capt. Kelly Denning, the Coast Guard’s Federal On-Scene Coordinator for the incident. “Though the containment system is considered a great success, the federal government is exploring all available response options, including to properly decommission the impacted wells on site.”

On Dec. 21, 2021, a settlement between the United States and Taylor Energy was reached in which Taylor Energy agreed to transfer all remaining funds in the Taylor Energy Decommissioning Trust to the United States. The funds will be used to properly decommission the oil wells which were originally connected to the downed platform at the MC-20 site. The terms of the settlement are outlined in the Consent Decree entered by the District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana on March 17, 2022. Further information about the settlement was made available by the U.S. Department of Justice at <https://www.justice.gov/opa/pr/taylor-energy-company-pay-over-43-million-and-transfer-432-million-decommissioning-trust-fund>.

The response to the active oil spill continues to be led by the Coast Guard Federal On-Scene Coordinator and is supported by its federal partners, including the Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. Currently, the Coast Guard is gathering key subsurface data which is intended to support future federal efforts to decommission the MC-20 wells which the Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement and U.S. Coast Guard believe is the necessary step to ultimately bring this incident to a closure.

Any questions about sub-surface activity or the decommissioning of oil and gas facilities located at the MC-20 site should be directed to BSEE at 1-800-200-4853.

It was a sea of red, white and blue on Saturday June 25 in The Club at Diamondhead where the Boaters Association celebrated the announcement of their 2023 Krewe of Kamehameha court. Commodore Audrey Ramirez recognized the prior courts’ Kings and Queens before announcing the 2023 King-Elect Rodney LaFontaine and his Queen-Elect Elaine LaFontaine. Also unveiled was the Equerry Ken Quebedeaux and Lady In Waiting Barbara Quebedeaux. The Dukes for 2023 include Lyn Cox, Tim Kennedy and Wayne Maxwell, with their respective Maids, Lou Ann Cox, Kelly Kennedy and Pam Marshall.

The event was attended by 130 members who dined on traditional July 4th fare that included BBQ chicken and apple pie prepared by Chef Ricky. Some very spirited patriots, including Uncle Sam aka Ray Walters and Boaters new members Steve and Kristin Hooks joined in the celebration listening and dancing to the music of Anderson Domingues. Kudos to Sandy Hatem, chairman of the Summer Party for the arrangements and spectacular décor.

weather, very large and lengthy climbs and steep descents daily. It rained every day we competed. The weather was very much a challenge but very different from an oppressive heat of the desert. We were not as dehydrated as we were in the desert.”

He packed different food and clothes from the first race and also changed the style of pack he carried. Both of those adjustments he said added to his improved time. He covered the same distance as Namibia in more than six hours faster.

Bezou stated, “When I changed the style of pack I carried, I also changed what food and clothing I packed. It amounted to about a seven pound difference which also helped the stress on the body. I did suffer a slight hip injury that has prolonged my recovery time here at home; however, I do feel better. I also did not bring my own tent this time and used one of the tents provided by race personnel. I had two tent mates and that helped with talking through some of the difficulties of the day. While there was not as much camaraderie as Namibia, it was better in some ways.”

The third leg of the ultimate distance challenge Bezou is trying to negotiate is set for Finland and starts on August 14. He will be competing above the arctic circle so there will need to be adjustments in packing again for the upcoming race.

Bezou added, “I have begun to research the weather and it appears that the climate will be very similar to Georgia but will be colder at night. It looks to be wet and wild again with several crossings through marshy terrain. I have two races down and three to go. This will be one of those races that I just want to get done. I am looking forward to Chile as that is the one that is at the top of my list as I prepare for it. The Finalnd race coming up will be like an adventure vacation as my wife, Karen, will be a volunteer for race personnel. I will get to see her each day which will be nice to share some encouraging words when I get through the stages. While we will not be able to stay together, it will be encouraging to have her there every day.”

With Finland coming up in about a month, Bezou is almost more than halfway through the challenge he has set out for himself which is to run an ultramarathon on five different continents in a single calendar year. The challenge is called the 4Deserts Grand Slam Plus and Bezou is trying

Gun Violence

By REV. C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN

C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN.

One of the most painful experiences in our American culture is currently unfolding in various places across our country. It is the mass slaughter and injury of innocent persons by gun violence. The mayor of Highland Park, Illinois, the site of a recent tragic event, accurately called the situation a crisis. We are seeing an unprecedented number of such shootings, and they are occurring in places large and small, north, south, east, and west, and in rural areas, small towns, and cities.

It is not possible to imagine a more spiritual issue than this. Those of us who embrace any kind of religious faith should understand that such actions are far removed from spiritual teaching. We are called to value and to preserve human life. Regardless of age, race, color, origin, or status, every person has value. Every person is loved by God. Each one of us is called to recognize that value and to honor it.

Let it be clear that this is NOT the same discussion as the one being waged regarding a woman's reproductive choice prior to fetus viability. That is also an important discussion, and there are surely differences of opinion. It is a conversation which deserves our attention. This, on the other hand, is about the wanton destruction of living, breathing, humanity. It is about a person, or persons, who lack respect for their fellow humans, and who are willing to destroy the lives of others who are only trying to live in peace.

It is also about the easy availability of weapons of mass destruction. The second amendment is a part of the United States Constitution. However, no reasonable person can conclude that the original intent of the founders of our country was to provide any and all people with access to such deadly arms. It is important to remember that the third word of the second amendment is "regulated" and that it is intended to apply to a militia. The kinds of weapons which are being used for these mass killings did not even exist at the time the constitution was written and adopted, and their use could not possibly have been part of their consideration.

It is also important to remember that this challenge which is before us should not deteriorate into partisan politics. Political leaders from all perspectives have a moral responsibility to address this issue not with an eye toward how it could impact their next election, but with clear-eyed reflection on ways that the carnage can be halted.

The regulation of arms is not new to our country. There are numerous types and styles of armament which have long been regulated, and many are unlawful to be owned by private citizens. Machine guns, armed tanks, and various bombs are among those which are unlawful. Large capacity assault weapons should be among them.

Yes, we should pray. Prayer is a vital part of the life of many of us. Prayer can bring comfort and wisdom as we approach these issues. It is also important to remember the often-quoted insight that we are called to "put feet to our prayers". May we commit to both pray and work to make our world a safer and better place.
